

Use of Library Building

The “Library” refers to all buildings and grounds including the playground. In accordance with the Library Bill of Rights, the Library may be used by other organizations or individuals for programs or meetings, with the permission of the Library Director. The space is available on a first come first served basis. The Library Director reserves the right to cancel or reschedule a reservation due to special circumstances. Every effort will be made to give adequate notice of such changes.

Fundraising events are limited to events benefiting the Library.
Events shall not be advertised in a manner that implies sponsorship by the Library.
For profit users are asked to make a donation to the Library.
The Library must be returned to the condition in which it was found.

The following uses of the library are prohibited:
solicitations, sales and petitions unless approved by the Library Director.

No pets are allowed in the Library except for trained service animals and animals which are part of a Library program.

The Library assumes no liability for damages to personal property or injuries which may occur during non-library sponsored programs.

The views, beliefs and ideas expressed by users of the space do not necessarily represent those of the Library.
